The other outstanding feature of the round was the defeat of Oscar Chajes, of the champion Rice Progressive team, by Dr. H. E. Leede, former Columbia varsity player, representing Staten Island. The champions, however, wently never the Green, and now leads victory over the Green, and n rival. Penn has played only seven games whereas Yale has participated in eight. Perter, of Cornell, trails the pair in third place with 87 points; Cantain Browne, of Dartmouth, is next with 54 and Captain Merrell, of Columbia, follows with 52.

Penn Far in Lead

Penn Far in Lead

The teams in the league have turned fato the home stretch, with Pennsylvania far in the lead. The Philadelphians virtually clinched the pennant and the Heppe trophy by their latest victory over Dartmouth, and even a conplete reversal of form by them would only result in a tie for the lead. The Quakers have yet to be beaten this season by any opponent in sixteen games and they have won six straight victories in the league competition.

Yale and Princeton are trailing along in second and third places, respectively. The battle for the runner-up position promises to be a hot one. In fact, the race between the teams other than Penn is one of the closest ever staged. Columbia upset the expectations of the Cornell students by its last-minute victory over the Ithacans on the local court Saturday night. Cornell also lost to Princeton for the second time last week, so that it was quite a disastrous week for the up-state five. Yale gained a victory over Dartmouth, as did Penn.

THE NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES have been A demobilized. Once more they are in the hands of their owners. We are proud of our war record. Whatever we could do to help win the war was done gladly and with the zeal of patriotism which animated every good American. By reason of our superior equipment and splendid personnel, we were able to contribute to the country an efficient, never-failing transportation service which played an important part in bringing victory.

HANGED conditions confront the railroads of the country, presenting for solution serious problems. Our rolling-stock is depleted, for, during the war, purchases could not keep pace with the demands of traffic. It will be impossible to restore overnight all the refinements of service which made this the best railroad in the country, or for that matter, in the world. But that will be done. as quickly as lies within human power. We are fully alive to our responsibilities to the public. We want the co-operation and good-will of the public and the public's representatives, the officials of the federal government and the various States which we serve, and intend to deserve them in fullest measure.

O that end, we purpose to discuss frankly with the public our policies, our ideals, our service, our equipment, our personnel. We want to retain old friends and to make new ones on the basis of thorough knowledge and understanding. Thus we can serve the public as it should be served by a modern, efficient railroad.
